RED ATTACKS HURLED BACK BY UN UNITS

Seoul, Korea (AP)—United Nations forces hurled back sporadic Communist assaults in East-Central Korea today and killed more than one-fourth of the attacking battalion.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters estimated 200 Red soldiers were killed as air-supported Allied troops successfully defended their forward position southeast of Kumsong.

For the second successive day Red guns were silent near the Alti-est of Chorwon on the Western Front. U. S. Shooting Stars made night air strikes on Reds still dug in on the rocky ridges.

The Chinese Communists' Kumsong assault began with fire from six self-propelled tanks or guns at night. Then five infantry platoons attacked and before dawn the Reds upped their strength to a battalion, about 750 men.

After light exchanges of small arms, mortar and artillery fire, U. N. soldiers crippled a noontime attack with their own counter-attacks.

Grounded by bad weather Wednesday, Fifth Air Force fighter bombers appeared today on close support missions against Red positions on both the Chorwon and Kumsong sectors.

One flight of Allied Shooting Stars killed or wounded 75 Communists and shot up three caves reported shielding Red soldiers, the Air Force said. Land-based Marine planes attacked a Red supply building 20 miles north of Pyongyang, on the Central front.

TWIN-GIRLS BORN TO FORMER MOVIE STAR

Rome (AP)—A wan and weary Ingrid Bergman shed tears of joy today as she got her first good look at her day-old twin daughters. Isabel, 7 pounds, three ounces, and her younger sister by half an hour—8-pound, 5-ounce Ingrid, Jr.—dozed in fitful unawareness of their international publicity.

Marring the hour of the Rosalind-inis' happiness was a legal battle with Miss Bergman's ex-husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

Lindstrom is fighting in a Los Angeles court a request by the actress to have her first-born, 13-year old Jenny Ann Pia, visit her in Rome this summer.

Government Winding Up Year Two Or Three Billion Better Than Expected

Washington (AP)—The government's going to wind up its year two to three billion dollars better off than it expected. But it still will be deep in the red.

Government experts, speaking privately, said today the deficit—the amount by which the government overpays its income—is likely to be less than 6 1/4 billion when the fiscal year ends June 30. It could be as low as 5 1/3 billion. President Truman, in his budget message last January, figured the government would go in the hole by $8,200,000,000.

The President estimated total spending would jump 59 per cent above last year due to a huge expansion in rearming the U. S. and friendly foreign countries. But the military expansion hasn't taken place on that scale.

Officials now say spending will fall at least 3 1/2 billion, and possibly more than four billion, below Truman's $70,900,000,000 spending estimate.

Whatever its effect on Western defenses, this dropoff will much more than compensate for a decline in tax revenues below the expected total.

Taxes are up—as who doesn't know?—but they look like falling over 1 1/2 billion dollars short of the $62,700,000,000 Truman budgeted.

Briton Has Praise For U.N. Teamwork

Edmonton, Alberta (AP)—Britain's defense minister, Field Marshal Earl Alexander, says teamwork among United Nations' forces in Korea is impressive and any criticism of the war's conduct is "absolutely unjustified."

Flying in last night from a week's visit to Japan and the Korean front, Alexander told a press conference he was "very favorably impressed with the whole effort."

Alexander, governor general of Canada until he took his present cabinet post and a World War II Allied commander in Italy, was to fly to Ottawa today for a three-day stopover en route to Washington and London.

Cost-of-Living Barometer Is Headed for Another Higher Mark With Release of Report

Washington (AP)—The government's latest cost-of-living barometer moved up today under pressure of rising food and rent costs to within a tiny fraction of the record high reached last January.

The living-cost index, measuring prices of food, clothing, shelter and a host of other things climbed during the month ending May 15 two-tenths of one per cent to 189 per cent of the 1935-39 average. That is 4.1 per cent over the mark of 18 months ago when prices and wage controls took effect. The peak figure last January was 189.1.

A million and a quarter railworkers will get an automatic two-cent hourly wage boost as a result of the latest increase in living costs. Their work contract ties wages to the cost-of-living index and adjustments are made each three months.

Another 100,000 wage earners in textiles, aircraft and oil refining industries also get at least a one-cent boost.

Leading the over-all living-cost rise was a boost of four-tenths of one per cent in rent across the country. The price of food at the grocery store moved up three-tenths of one per cent.

But the price of clothing, of fuel and electricity and of house furnishings all dropped fractionally.

Although prices on most items have climbed, Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) officials announced yesterday ceilings would be suspended this weekend on bottled whiskey and wine. They have been selling for months below ceiling levels.

The price drop in these items was attributed to big stocks and lagging sales. The decline in sales has been sharp since last November, when a steep new federal tax went into effect.

VOTING RECORDS OF SENATORS FROM PA.

Washington (AP)—The voting record of Sen. James H. Duff and Sen. Edward Martin, Republicans from Pennsylvania, in three Senate actions yesterday was as follows:

On a resolution disapproving President Truman's reorganization plan to eliminate Senate confirmation of some 20,000 postmasters which was passed, 56-29, Duff and Martin voted for the resolution.

On a resolution killing the President's reorganization plan to end Senate confirmation of customs officials, approved 51-31, Martin in favor, Duff not voting.

Sweden Decides To Step Up Alertness Against Air Attack

Stockholm, Sweden (AP)—Traditionally neutral Sweden, late over the shooting down of a Swedish plane by Soviet jet fighters, beefed up her already strong defenses against Russia today but was expected to still fight shy of participation in such Western alliances as the Atlantic Pact.

The Swedish government already has ordered a step-up in air attack alertness throughout the country and instructed its air force and navy to shoot back if fired on by Soviet planes. Neighboring Denmark also told its airmen to return fire if attacked.

Swedish Foreign Minister Oesten Unden, cut short his Italian vacation after the incident and was due here by air from Rome today.

But political observers expressed doubt that Unden's return would result in any change in Sweden's long-held policy of "freedom from alliances." She has been a neutral in European wars for more than 100 years.

Sweden flatly rejected last night a Russian protest that the ill-fated Catalina flying boat, blasted from the air Monday over the Baltic Sea with seven men aboard, had flown over Soviet territory and started the shooting.

Another Punch On Nose for Pearson

Washington (AP)—Drew Pearson has been punched again. And the man who threw the punch, $75,000 - a - year lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark, says it couldn't have landed on a more appropriate target.

The one-blow encounter between the columnist - commentator and his critic—who, in turn, had been raked over the coals twice in Pearson's column—occurred after lunch yesterday in the lobby of the fashionable Mayflower Hotel.

Clark appeared in Police Court today and pleaded innocent to the charge. He was released on personal bond for a hearing July 3. Pearson was not in court, but was represented by his counsel.

Pearson was pummeled by Sen. Joseph McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, at the Sulgrave Club in 1950. He's suing McCarthy and others for $5,100,000.

CHAUFFEUR STRICKEN DRIVING ON HIGHWAY

Mt. Holly (AP)—A car carrying six New York women to Atlantic City zigzagged crazily and overturned on Route 59 here yesterday after the chauffeur suffered a heart attack and died while at the wheel.

The driver, 44-year-old Louis Bersen of the Bronx, N. Y., suddenly slumped over and fell against one of his passengers.

The car turned over onto the shoulder of the highway about seven miles south of here. All six women were injured, none seriously.

QUIET ON TRUCE FRONT

Munsan, Korea (AP)—Not a single official word was exchanged today at Panmunjom in the second day of a three-day recess the United Nations Command called in the stalled Korean truce negotiations.

KILLED BY CAR

Delicate Brain Operation Fails to Curb "Urge to Steal" Chronic Thief Admits

Pittsburgh (AP)—A 43-year-old man who has spent half his adult life in prisons—but who won a parole three years ago after voluntarily submitting to a delicate brain operation to curb his "urge to steal"—is back in jail.

Millard F. Wright refused to discuss his case after he was arrested for questioning in connection with a string of jewelry store burglaries.

When detectives asked him if the brain operation had been successful he shrugged and replied, "With me it wasn't."

Whereabouts of Two River Boats Mystery

Whereabouts of the two river boats, Lady Grace III and Betsy Ann II, which passed through Warren shortly after noon Wednesday en route from Olean to the Allegheny River Improvement Association convention at East Brady, was somewhat of a mystery today.

The boats expected to spend the night below Tonawanda, but had not passed there at noon today. They encountered considerable difficulty with rifles in the Allegheny between Warren and Star Brick and did not pass the Ben White place until after 4 p. m.

Rumor had it that the boats were delayed at Trunkleyville, but residents there said they had not been seen. At the Lewis Bowman boat yard in East Hickory, it was reported this afternoon that they had not yet passed that point.

Education Center At Grand Valley Is Approved at Meet

Meadville (AP)—The 117th annual session of the Erie Conference of the Methodist church gave approval Wednesday to begin the development of the proposed Erie Conference Christian Education Center near Grand Valley. The five-day session began Wednesday morning with communion and memorial services at Stone church here. The business meeting was held at Allegheny College.

Architects plans for the $100,000 Center were submitted to the conference. Plans call for a main dining hall seating 216. The Center will be used for youth rallies and for educational purposes by Methodists.

Three ministers were re-elected to conference offices for four-year terms. They are Rev. V. L. Bloomquist of Fairview; treasurer, Rev. C. A. McEntarfer of Cambridge Springs, statistician; and Rev. George Braun of Clarion, secretary. Main speaker during the afternoon session was Bishop Francis J. McConnell, whose topic was "Strategy of the Higher Warfare."

Bishop McConnell said, "The great need today is the need for a proper perspective. Men will not be saved by modern gadgets. Material prosperity has little value unless there are great visions and a faith to match."

Dr. Thomas E. Colley, superintendent of the Meadville District, submitted the district superintendent's report for the four districts of the conference.

Espionage Trial In Republic of Korea

Pusan, Korea (AP)—The Republic of Korea today secretly placed 14 men on trial on a charge of conspiring with Reds to overthrow the United Nations-sponsored government.

Seven of the defendants, before a nine-man civilian-military court are national assemblymen, political opponents of President Syngman Rhee.

Hardly had the closed trial begun when the National Assembly meeting but a few yards from the drab courtroom, adopted a resolution 84-0 urging Rhee to open the hearing to the public.

Observers said there was little possibility the trial would be opened to any but 12 foreign observers invited by the Korean government.

The defendants have eight lawyers. Two were appointed by the court.

UPPER HOUSE TO CONTROL 21,592 JOBS

Washington (AP)—Three of President Truman's government reorganization plans are dead in the wake of a Senate vote keeping congressional control over 21,592 federal jobs.

With many who normally support administration policies bucking the president, the Senate yesterday defeated in one-two-three order his proposals to eliminate Senate confirmation of city postmasters, U. S. marshals and customs collectors.

The program would have gone into effect automatically Friday midnight if neither the House nor the Senate had acted. It called for filling the jobs by department heads through Civil Service procedure.

Opponents argued that the three plans would merely transfer the politics of appointments from members of Congress to the administration in power.

Backers of the program said it would wipe out the last big segment of the political spoils system.

The big fight was over the postmasters—21,438 of first, second and third class postoffices. With 49 of a majority of this full Senate needed to kill the proposal, the vote was 56 to 29.

The vote on the postmaster plan was in part a test between the influence of the postal employee unions, which opposed it, and the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, which supported all the reorganization proposals.

Higher Taxes Are Needed Instead Of Cut Executive Says

Washington (AP)—President Truman said today taxes should be increased rather than decreased as advocated by both top candidates for the Republican presidential nomination.

The president told his news conference he didn't think any Democratic president would reduce taxes.

He said if taxes could have been reduced he would have tried to do so himself.

A reporter wanted to know whether a Republican president actually could reduce taxes.

No, unless he wants to put the country more in the hole than it is now, Truman replied.

Truman commented one day after Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio declared he is willing to pledge "a straight 15 per cent cut in taxes" if he is elected president.

Meanwhile, in Denver, Dwight D. Eisenhower, locked in a hot battle with Taft for the Republican presidential nomination, said a tax reduction would be possible in about two years.

Bell Cites Reasons For Higher Tariffs

Harrisburg (AP)—Higher operating costs were cited by the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania today as a major factor in its request for a 32 million dollar rate increase.

G. E. Wiltbank, a Bell cost engineer, said that material costing $1 in 1923 now costs $1.59.

Wiltbank cited that and other statistical data at a hearing before the Public Utility Commission on Bell's proposed rate increase. The commission suspended the increased rates until Sept. 7, for an investigation now under way.

The increased rates would apply to two million subscribers in the state. Residential telephones would go up about 50 cents a month. Pay booth calls would be doubled from five to ten cents.

Wiltbank said, it would cost $931,274,483 to reproduce the company's system in the state, compared to an original cost of $659,799,642. Reproduction cost is a major factor in determining rates.

HARRY F. SCHMIDT, left, retiring after a highly successful term as president of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce, hands the gavel of office to the newly-elected president, Alex Fino, as installation ceremonies take place at the annual banquet, Wednesday night, at Marcom Outing Club.

Over 200 persons attended the third annual inaugural banquet and ball last night of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce and its auxiliary at Marcom Outing Club, which was one of the most successful social affairs in the four-year history of the Jaycees.

The first big event of the program came as a complete surprise to the Jaycees and their wives when Delbert Lewis of the Lewis Catering Service, told the Jaycees that because of their contribution to the civic life of Warren he was donating the dinner last night. Needless to say, Mr. Lewis received a thunderous standing ovation from the dais.

Among the guests present were Dan Walton, general secretary of the YMCA, who gave the invocation; Mr. and Mrs. William Rice; and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kinnear. Leroy Schneick was the toastmaster.

Mr. Rice, president of Borough Council, was the main speaker at the banquet. He told the Jaycees that the older residents of Warren think a lot of the Junior Chamber and compared Jaycees to members of the city council in that they are all working for the good of the community. He made two suggestions to the chapter.

First, he spoke about War Memorial Field and said it now represents a one hundred thousand dollar investment. He said Council has a serious sewage problem to solve and could not develop the field to any extent for a long time. He suggested the Jaycees cooperate with other civic clubs in town to develop the field.

Mr. Rice also said that one of the greatest assets of the city is its beauty and he charged the Junior Chamber to protect the town's beauty against commercialism, particularly the river front.

Following the address, Mrs. Harry F. Schmidt, retiring auxiliary president introduced the new president, Mrs. Matthew Bova, and presented her with a book and pin. Also introduced were Mrs. Glen Nelson and Mrs. Alex Fino, both past presidents of the Jaycee Auxiliary.

Mrs. Bova presented a past president's pin to Mrs. Schmidt and then introduced the new board of directors: Mrs. F. W. Ahlquist, Jr., 1st vice-president, Mrs. Charles (Turn to Page Eighteen)

27-Year-Old Mother in Massachusetts Gives Birth to Three Boys and a Girl

Weymouth, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Marion L. Manning, 27, is the mother of healthy quadruplets today.

Three boys and a girl were born at South Shore Hospital last night. She has three other youngsters. The first child, the girl, was born at 9.23 p. m., the second at 10:13, and the third and fourth 11 and 16 minutes later.

The babies, all placed in incubators, were reported to weigh between two and three pounds each and to measure about a foot long. Several hours after the last birth hospital physicians reported their condition as fair.

TAFT-HARTLEY LAW IS UNDER DELIBERATION

Washington (AP)—President Truman said today the steel strike is creating a serious situation. Gen. Eisenhower still is a friend of his and no president can cut taxes 15 per cent.

Truman raved through those subjects—and a few others—at his news conference. He said that he isn't running for office, so he can't give the facts about cutting taxes. Actually, he said, they ought to be increased in order to meet the deficit.

While the steel situation is becoming serious, Mr. Truman conceded, he gave no indication as to any steps he might have in mind to meet it. The morning papers, he remarked, show automobile manufacturing is being cut back and if that isn't serious he doesn't know what is.

The question of using the Taft-Hartley law is under consideration, Mr. Truman said, but it has been right along. He had been asked whether he thought he should or would use the law soon.

On other subjects, Truman had this to say:

Civil rights—The speech he made at Howard University, in which he went all-out for civil rights, reflects his views as to what the Democratic party platform should contain on that subject.

War—There is no new note of urgency to be detected in his warnings about new Korea, anti-aircraft defenses and statements that the international situation is very serious.

MacArthur—The Army is in charge on the decision that Gen. Douglas MacArthur will not violate regulations by delivering the keynote speech at the Republican convention. But the President ducked a direct answer as to whether he approves the Army's decision.

Pittsburgh (AP)—Philip Murray's striking CIO United Steelworkers are beginning to show signs of financial hardship as the 18-day-old walkout bites ever deeper into the national defense program.

Contractors Start Grading Preparatory To Cutting New Channel for Mill Race

Grading work preparatory to cutting a new Mill Race channel from a point on the island south of Pennsylvania avenue back into the Conewango is under way today by Nelson and Ellsberg, whose purchase contract of island lands included a right to cut the channel through the eastern end of the Newmaker property.

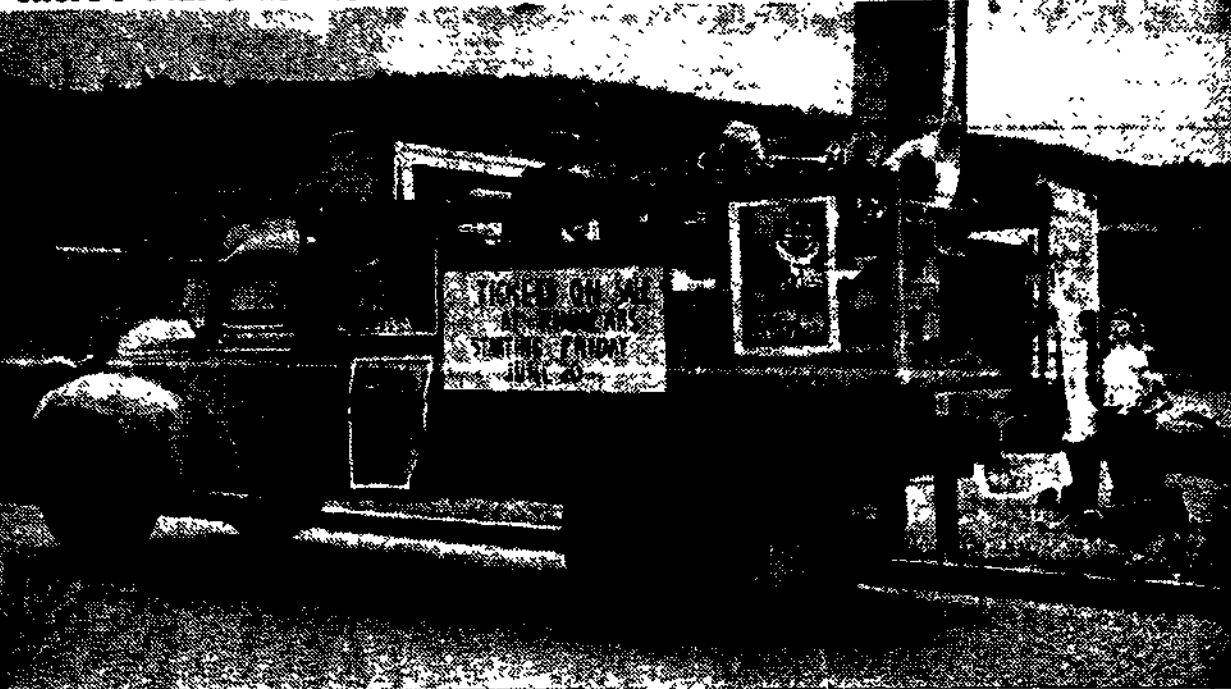

Trees along the bank of the old Mill Race have been removed, and the location of the proposed cut is now plainly visible. It was not known today just when the cutting through process will be started, but the approach will be made from the Conewango end of the channel, and when the last cut is made, the Mill Race will promptly flow into the new channel.

Residents whose properties touch on the old Mill Race, just south of Pennsylvania avenue and the others north of the avenue to where the gates open above the dam, were holding impromptu conferences today in regard to the possibility of eliminating the upper part of the race entirely and having it filled in. Mrs. Kenneth Wright, 106 1/2 Water street, who expressed herself as ardently in favor of this move, said no definite procedure had been decided upon.

High Wage and Employment Levels Let Americans Eat More And Better Foods Than Before

By SAM DAWSON
New York (AP)—The American way of good food is making farming one of the nation's fastest growing industries.

Despite all the grumbling about food prices, Americans are eating more and better food than did their parents. Since prosperous 1929 the food consumption in this country has doubled, the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland concludes, after adjusting food dollar volume to price changes. Neither the auto nor home building industries can show a unit volume gain equal to that in agriculture as a growth industry.

If the population continues to grow at its present rate, and if Americans find the money to maintain their present high dietary standards, the market for American farm products in 1975 will be twice what it was just before Pearl Harbor, the bank figures.

Only if the birth rate drops and Americans go back to their diet standards of 10 or 15 years ago, will the future demand for agricultural products fall below present high capacity to produce, the bank says.

Taking a shorter-term view, the American Institute of Food Distribution says almost all retail food store operators expect to go right on, the rest of this year at least, selling more food than last year; they credit the continued heavy spending of prosperous consumers.

Chief factor in recent years has been the ability of lower income groups to enlarge their buying of food, both in the amount they buy and the better quality they can afford. Almost continuous high employment levels and higher wage rates in recent years account for much of this.

The sharp increase in total food sales in this country is due in part to the big baby crops which push population totals higher. But other or factors are more important. Chief is the change that has come over the national diet. Since the depression years the lower-priced bulky and starchy foods have lost ground, relatively, to meats, eggs, milk, fresh fruit and vegetables. Over the years Americans also have tended to spend more of their income on choicer meats and better quality vegetables and groceries.

All of this can change quickly if incomes drop, due to unemployment or other reasons. Families quickly trim food budgets when the pay check shrinks.

Also they shift away from certain foods when they get too costly. One example was the cut-back by many families in meat buying when meat prices were at their highest. A more recent one is the shying away from potatoes when they temporarily became collectors' items.

PLENTY OF POTATOES IN NATION'S MARKETS

By The Associated Press

The nation's big potato shortage is over. There are plenty of spuds in markets from coast to coast.

An Associated Press survey shows that at many places prices have dropped as much as one-third from the highs reached about two weeks ago after potato price ceilings were suspended.

Wholesale prices already are back at or near the old ceilings in New York, Chicago and several other cities.

There is some difference of opinion on prospects for future price cutting. While some dealers say prices are at "a seasonally normal level" and generally stabilized, there are other reports that more reductions may be expected before the market levels off.

Last year the English tried the interesting experiment of conducting tournaments over a period of several months in order to select their national bridge team. The usual practice is to select the team that wins a national tournament conducted over a period of a few days.

The English experiment kept bridge stars in a constant state of excitement for a long time, and developed several new ranking players. On the debit side, it turned up an inexperienced team to represent England in an international tournament; and the inexperienced players lost where seasoned players might have won.

On the credit side we have all the interesting hands that were played during months of anxious competition. The hand shown today was one of these.

Declarer must lose a club soon or later, no matter what happens. The problem is to avoid losing a diamond trick.

The slapdash player bangs out three rounds of trumps and two or three top diamonds. Then he says "Bad luck, partner," and concedes two tricks to the enemy. That sort of player doesn't land a place on any national team.

The careful declarer wins the first heart, draws three rounds of trumps, cashes the rest of the hearts, then takes the ace of diamonds and the ace of clubs. At this point he lets the enemy take a club trick.

If West wins the club, he must return a heart or a club. This gives dummy a ruff, while South discards the losing diamond.

If East wins the club, his only chance is to return a diamond. A low diamond would be won by dummy's nine. If East returns the jack of diamonds, dummy wins with the queen; and South still has the king-eight for the finesse that he then knows to be necessary. (West fails to follow suit on the second round of diamonds, so the situation is clear).

Freed on Charge of Aiding Prisoners

Beaver (AP)—Mrs. Bertha Johnson, 50, has been cleared of charges she smuggled hacksaws to a prisoner who escaped from Beaver County Jail. Fred Henry, who broke jail after cutting a steel bar, denied receiving help from Mrs. Johnson. He said he found the blades on a ledge in his cell.

Name Receiver For Ramie Corporation

Pittsburgh (AP)—John J. Vaughn was appointed receiver for the U. S. Ramie Corp. after the Pennsylvania Securities Commission charged the company has no tangible assets.

U. S. Raymie Corp., was organized to grow ramie plants in Zellwood, Fla. Fibers from the plant are used to make cloth. The commission charges $156,000 in stock was sold to more than 200 persons in Pittsburgh and other parts of the country. Judge Walter P. Smart will hold a hearing June 27.

We Can't Use Bean to Predict Elections Before Conventions

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Louis H. Bean, who wrote "How to Predict Elections in 1948 and 'The Mid-Term Battle'" in 1950, says he isn't going to write a book this election year. Not yet, anyway. His reason is that there just aren't any exact or scientific methods of predicting what's going to happen at a presidential nominating convention. After the conventions are over, the situation might be different.

Dr. Bean insists that he never makes predictions. Nevertheless, before the congressional elections of 1950, he came up with facts which led to the conclusion that the Republicans would gain from 25 to 30 seats in the House of Representatives. This statement was made in April. In November the Republicans gained 27 seats.

Louis Bean is a Department of Agriculture economist and statistician by profession. But some years ago he became interested in the study of election returns.

The result was his first book, "How to Predict Elections," published before the Truman-Dewey race four years ago. In it he revealed his statistics to support the evidence of a national Democratic trend. If that trend continued, a Democratic president would be elected.

In this pre-convention season of 1952, however, Dr. Bean says there are too many imponderables to make any such predictions. There are too many candidates in the field. Personalities are more important right now than issues, and there is no way to measure the relative strengths of personalities except by a poll. Polls aren't always reliable.

Some states have primaries and some don't. There is no way to make a statistical chart or a graph to show how a state political convention will behave.

Other unpredictable factors are involved. Will there be a series of strikes? Will the cost of living continue to rise? Or will there be a mild business slump?

How much of a factor will the charges of crime and corruption in government be in the November elections? How much of a factor will the charges of communism in government be?

In general, it has been Dr. Bean's observation that foreign policy issues tend to cancel out in their influence on American election results. Outbreak of the Korean war in July, 1950, for instance, had no appreciable effect on the November election results.

If a real depression were to hit the United States, however, it would affect both employers and employees, producers and consumers. It would have a tremendous political effect. That was what happened in 1932.

There are two factors which Louis Bean puts the finger on as giving the Democrats an advantage over their 1948 position. One is that there is no Progressive Party movement this year. That drew from the Democratic strength in 1948. The other is that there is much less chance of a Dixiecrat split. The Republicans will have to overcome those advantages in 1952.

The 20-year political trend which statistician Bean finds is that roughly 55 per cent of the voters have been voting Democratic, 45 per cent Republican. If this tide continues, it is conceivable that a Democratic presidential candidate could be elected.

Or, if the trend is reversed insofar as the presidency is concerned, Dr. Bean still considers it possible that a Democratic Senate and possibly a Democratic House could be elected along with a Republican president. He makes clear that he isn't predicting that. He just says it's possible.

HILL QUIET AFTER 6 DAYS' FIGHTING

Seoul, Korea (AP)—Bloody hill T was comparatively quiet today after six days of savage fighting for that Western Front high point. U. S. infantrymen wrested it from the Chinese last Thursday.

For five straight nights the Chinese threw battalions size—about 750 men—counterattacks against Americans holding three rocky knobs of the hill. Each attack was beaten off.

The Chinese failed to strike last night.

At the peak of the battle the Reds fired as many as 8,000 rounds daily into Allied positions.

ONE PENNA. MEETING IS PLANNED BY TAFT

Harrisburg (AP)—Only one statewide meeting will be held June 24 between Sen. Robert A. Taft and the 70-member Pennsylvania Republican delegation.

Robertson Cameron, state executive director of Citizens for Taft said yesterday the meeting will be held at Hershey. Gov. John S. Fine last week had said there was a possibility that another meeting would take place at Pittsburgh.

Last Friday, the pivotal state delegation met with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at the general's farm near Gettysburg.

DEB TOASTS THE JAYCEES

Deb Lewis, who is perhaps the best known industrial caterer in the state of Pennsylvania despite the fact that his business stems from this bright little city at the Gateway to the Allegheny National Forest, paid the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce a mute but glowing tribute, Wednesday night.

With his able staff busily engaged in serving the Jaycees and their ladies a fine banquet upon the occasion of their annual installation of officers at the Marconi Outing Club, Deb modestly announced that the banquet was his gift to the Jaycees in appreciation for what they are doing for Warren.

Deb's quiet little remark so surprised and astounded the Jaycees that there was a brief moment of tense silence, then the rafters rang with applause, the assembly arose as one man, and the generous citizen from the East Side could have no doubt that his gift was deeply and genuinely appreciated.

While Deb's present of this fine banquet to the Junior Chamber is his own way of showing his admiration for the hard-working young men, it has a deeper significance. Actually, it is a token gift which reflects the sentiment of the entire community. Deb's brief words and his action represent just how Warren feels toward the Jaycees. The word itself, Jaycee, has become an integral part of Warren. The gift of this fine banquet is indeed a challenge, too — everyone, including Deb Lewis, expects the Jaycees to go right on doing things for Warren. One of Frank Kottcamp's old-time "Hip, Hip Hoorays!" for Deb Lewis and for the Jaycees, the boys who have put Warren on the state and national map!

HERE and THERE

It started with a dream in which a group of great men from all parties notified Major Amos E. Hoople that he was their candidate for president of the United States on an independent ticket. But a dream was all that the Major needed. The noted scientist, inventor and big-game hunter, hero of the comic "Our Boarding House," snapped into dynamic action and launched a volley of words heard 'round the world. The Owls Club will be for him to a man. Naturally there are scoffers — those coarse louts who dwell with him in Hoople Manor — but he marches on undaunted. The hilarity starts with the June 23rd release of "Our Boarding House," and it will burst into full bloom during the Republican and Democratic conventions in July in Chicago. Get on the Hoople bandwagon; you'll find it lots of fun.

An ominous warning is sounded in the reminder that more than 90,000,000 Americans will go forth on the Fourth of July, the National Safety Council reports, "for holiday or a hollow day." It is estimated that there will be 40,000,000 passenger vehicles on U. S. streets and highways during the three-day weekend and that they will travel 5,000,000,000 miles — enough to circle the world 200,000 times. The Council emphasizes that more cars on the road will inevitably mean more accidents — unless there is more caution than usual on the part of the motoring public. While it may be a little early for planning your Fourth of July holiday, plans should include ample time to get where you are planning on spending the day — and should also call for cautious driving while on the highways. An ominous note already has been sounded this year, the Council adds, with the traffic death toll for Memorial Day setting a new record of 360 lives lost in traffic alone.

Mixture Our congratulations to the Intelligencer Journal, Lancaster, on the occasion of its 158th birthday anniversary observed with the publication of a souvenir edition of forty pages on Tuesday. President and Mrs. Alex F. Fino, of the Jaycees, entertained over 25 couples at a barbecue at their palatial home on the Warren-Jamestown Road following the dinner dance at the Marconi Outing Club last evening and according to all reports a good time was

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE
New York. (AP) The place where I work is full of desks but this stranger in the soiled white shirt naturally had to walk up to my desk.

"I been up all night," he said belligerently. "You don't expect me to say up all day, too, do you?"

"No indeed," I murmured.

"Well, I'm going to stay up until I get the rules clarified," he said. "Does a baseball fan have legal rights or doesn't he?"

"O course, he does."

"They can't throw a fan out of the ball park just for hollering, can they?"

"Oh, no, indeed."

"That's what I told them after they threw me out of the park last night," said the stranger. "I knew I was right all along."

And he walked out of the office, completely happy.

My visitor was obviously slightly screwball, and I fell to thinking: "Why, out of all the ears in sight, he could bend with his tale of woe, did he pick on my ears?"

The only answer I could find was that in me he instinctively recognized a kindred soul.

Screwballs seem to love me, and I must confess I find them fascinating, too. Looking back on 20 years of newspaper work, I expect I must have spent at least 15 of them listening to screwballs.

Every newspaper office is visited by an almost daily parade of mildly daff crackpots, and the man assigned to the score of hearing them is sometimes known as "the screwball editor." I always loved this work myself, although it makes some reporters nervous, particularly if the visitor is carrying a small parcel that could turn out to be a home-made bomb.

My trouble with crackpots is that I usually end up on their side. If an added inventor shows up with plans for a flying submarine, he has no trouble at all convincing me submarines should have wings. I remember the fellow who wanted to launch a crusade to get raspberry-flavored stamps. That seemed so sensible to me that I sat down and helped him draft a letter to the postoffice.

W P L REPORTING

Here are a few titles picked at random from the list of latest books received by the Warren Public Library:

The Donkey Shoe, by G. E. Stern—Jessica, who is a charming and talented woman, returns to her career as an actress when her husband dies. Her daughter resents being left out of her mother's life and the plot revolves about the relationship of these two.

Homage to Catalonia, by George Orwell—Orwell fought as a militiaman in the Spanish Civil War and was a witness to the betrayal of the Spanish revolution by its own Communist sponsors. In their effort to defeat Franco, the Communists resorted to the same totalitarian methods they were opposing, with the result that they were defeated. By their own interparty squabbles. This book is an unusual document of the episode to World War II.

Forty Odd, by Mary Bard—The author relates the story of her fortieth birthday and the ensuing year during which her well-meaning but irresponsible friends attempt to initiate her into the problems of middle age. The results are occasionally hilarious as well as thought-provoking.

The Judges and the Judged, by Merle Miller—This is the thoroughly documented investigation of the blacklisting of radio and television personalities by such publications as Red Channels and Counterattack. The publication of this book is of importance to the average citizen in the face of the growing tendency to condemn without any attempt to present proper legal evidence.

The Thurber Album, by James Thurber—Perhaps the best American humorist of our day, Thurber here departs from the pure fantastic and writes with great charm and wit about his family and his friends in Ohio. Individuality flourished in the Thurber family and some of the incidents he relates resemble folklore.

BRIDAL SHOWER
In some rural parishes, wheat is thrown over the bridal couple with the cry, "Bread for life and pudding for ever," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

"BIG THREE"—In Seoul, Korea, British Defense Minister Lord Alexander, left, is greeted by Eighth Army Commander Gen. James Van Fleet as Alexander arrives at the Seoul airport on his inspection tour of Korea and Japan. UN Supreme Commander, Gen. Mark W. Clark, center, was also present to welcome the British defense chief.

Here, Requests Return to Korea

BACK IN HIS DUGOUT in Korea is Lance-Corporal Bill Speakman. British hero awarded the Victoria Cross—equivalent of the Congressional Medal. Before and after being wounded, with complete disregard for his own safety, Speakman led six other men in repeated grenade charges, inflicting heavy losses on the Communists and allowing his wounded and greatly outnumbered comrades, including his officers, to withdraw to safety. He returned to Britain as a national hero, but, a fighting man of a fighting stock in Korea since the outset, he asked to return to the battle.

House OK's Claim in Army Vehicle Crash

Washington (AP)—The House has passed a bill to pay Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Campion, of Route 2, Pine Knot, Pottsville, Pa., $8,280 for a claim in the death of their daughter, Lucy.

The girl was injured fatally in a collision involving an Army vehicle at Indiantown Gap, Pa., Military Reservation in 1945.

The claim bill, introduced in the House yesterday by Rep. Ivor Fenton (R.-Pa.), of Mahanoy City, now must go to the Senate.

BILL TO SAFEGUARD RADIO IS PONDERED

Washington (AP)—A bill to safeguard radio and television stations from libel suits based on broadcasts of political candidates went to a Senate-House conference today.

The legislation also would prevent the stations from charging candidates hiked-up rates.

And the House, in passing the measure by voice vote late yesterday, required that if a station sells to one candidate it must make equal time available to his opponents.

Expect 150 Scouts And Leaders Will Make Up Camporee

More than 150 scouts and their leaders expect to spend a night out at annual Boy Scout Camporee this coming Saturday and Sunday. Scouts will begin to arrive about 9 A. M. Saturday morning and by noon all will be in camp and enjoying their first meal of the Camporee. The Farnsworth farm at Cherry Grove is the location for this year's Camporee.

Upon arrival they will be checked in by a group of Scouters under the leadership of Commissioner Cecil Winans.

After setting up camp and cooking the noon meal, the Scouts will participate in a series of intertroop contests including both Scouting Skills and athletic contests. Following the evening meal a camp-wide retreat ceremony will be held with all units participating.

Parents are the honored guests at the campfire. The program of the evening will include a unit roll call, a song fest, and a Court of Honor. A surprise feature will be revealed at the campfire.

Sunday morning will be highlighted by religious services. Scouts of the Catholic Faith will go to Mass at the Catholic Church in Clarendon. Scouts of the various Protestant denominations will unite in worship under the leadership of Rev. John Champney of Warren. The Camporee will close with the noon meal on Sunday.

Price Permanence As Result of War Seen by Economist

Harrisburg (P)—A Bell Telephone Co. economist expert said today the rise in prices since the Korean War "has a relative degree of permanence."

Dr. Lionel D. Edie of New York made the statement at the start of another round of hearings by the Public Utility Commission into a proposed $2 million dollar a year rate increase by the Bell concern.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that at least the next three to five years we are likely to see prices at a level not materially different from that now prevailing."

Dr. Edie was called by Bell to testify concerning the company's reproduction costs. He maintained that the fairest representation of such costs would be to use prices for the year beginning July 1, 1950.

Reproduction costs are used by the PUC in determining a utility's profit margin.

Joseph Rose, attorney for the Pennsylvania CIO-Industrial Union Council, which is opposing the rate increase, said a one-year price study in determining reproduction costs would not be fair. He contended a one-year study would not be long enough to give an accurate picture of costs.

The rate boost, affecting some two million subscribers, is the largest ever brought before the PUC by a single utility.

It would increase the traditional nickel booth call to a dime. Most residence rates would go up 50 cents a month.

Bell first asked that the rate boost go into effect last March 7. The PUC suspended it for six months to September 7 and ordered an inquiry into its reasonableness.

The PUC ended its last round of hearings on the rate boost here May 15 when an argument developed over Bell's reproduction cost testimony.

RUTH MILLETT

Mother Must Exercise Right To Make Demands of Children

A WOMAN doctor writing in a national women's magazine offers the hard-working wife and mother some sound advice.

She says: "Child-guidance books have convinced most modern mothers that they must respect their children as individuals. It's time someone convinced them that their children owe the same respect to them."

You'll know just what she means if there are any Susans among your acquaintances—and there are probably more than one.

Susan is the modern version of a "good mother." Nothing is too much trouble if she thinks it is for the children's welfare.

She sees that they are entertained, that they have the things that are momentarily important, that they are chauffeured wherever they want to go, that they have all of the so-called "advantages" of dancing lessons, etc., and lets them and their friends take over the house.

MAKE CHILDREN UNDERSTAND MOTHER'S RIGHTS

THAT would all be fine if Susan demanded anything from her children in return. She doesn't.

They are allowed to take, without giving anything in return, to demand without any thought for the rest of the family, to accept everything their mother does for them without feeling that they should do anything for her that isn't pleasant or convenient.

Susan can't even entertain friends in her own home without constant interruptions and demands. If she has to say "No" she gets a sullen-voiced argument. When she really needs her children's co-operation she doesn't get it.

Susan hasn't made her children understand that she, too, is an individual with rights and privileges of her own that her children have to respect.

She is just "Mom," who is expected always to be at their beck and call.

If she only demanded something from her children in return, she would be happier, and so would they.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I saw a house I would like to buy with a GI loan. The seller wants to charge me $200 more than the reasonable value which has been determined by VA. Is it all right if I pay him the extra $200?

A—No. Under the law, the purchase price may not exceed the reasonable value determined by VA. Any side payment made to evade this requirement of the law is illegal.

Q—I am now training under the GI Bill, and I just learned that I might possibly be recalled to active duty sometime in the fall. I plan to take my regular summer vacation. Should I continue with my GI course this fall, even though I may have to interrupt it to return to military duty? Or may I stay out of school and wait for my orders?

A—There are many uncertainties in a situation like yours. You cannot be sure of your return to service until you actually receive orders and are found physically qualified. So you should not interrupt your training merely on the probability that you may be recalled. Such an interruption would not be considered beyond your control; however, receipt of orders requiring you to report for active duty would be considered beyond your control, and would enable you to go ahead with your training after you are discharged.

Q—I am drawing compensation for a service-connected disability. Now that the rates have gone up, will I have to re-apply in order to get higher monthly payments?

A—No. You will receive the increased payments automatically. They become effective July 1, and will be reflected in the check you receive at the end of that month.

Brother Drowns, Boys Dare Not Tell Mother

Reading (P)—The three McElroy boys, Lynn, 10; Peter, 9; and Cary, 7; went off for a swim in Tulpehocken Creek to cool off yesterday.

Peter and Cary returned home about eight hours later. Their mother, Mrs. Brooks McElroy asked where their oldest brother was. "He'll be home later," Peter answered.

When Lynn didn't appear by the time her husband got home, Mrs. McElroy became worried. The parents questioned their two sons closely.

Peter and Cary finally broke out in tears. They were on the creek bank, they said, when they saw Lynn struggling in the water. He sank before they could reach him, and no one answered their screams for help.

Then, they told their parents, they agreed "not to tell mother right away."

Potato and Corn Crops Retarded By Wet-Cool Weather

Harrisburg—Scarcity of seed potatoes proved a handicap to some Pennsylvania growers when they found it necessary to replant fields where seed rotted in the ground due to the wet and cool weather during May.

According to a Federal-State survey announced by the State Department of Agriculture, much early planted corn also rotted in the ground and when plans were made for replanting, farmers created a heavy demand on seed-houses for early maturing varieties. Planting of corn progressed rapidly as the month ended but the crop is late and prospect of fall freezing to immature ears is causing some concern, the Department said.

Some acreage intended for corn may be diverted to other crops, the survey disclosed. However, observers said, while May's wet weather was not too good for corn and potatoes, there was excellent growth of oats and hay, offering farmers some consolation.

The month of May had three weeks of rainy weather which hindered planting, cultivating, spraying and other field work in Pennsylvania and spring planting was considerably behind schedule on June 1, the survey revealed. Conditions in early May were favorable and planting of corn, oats, potatoes and truck crops progressed rapidly until the frequent rains and wet grounds slowed operations to a near standstill, officials said.

Early planted oats and potatoes made good growth and winter wheat and barley again showed improvement over the previous month. A heavy hay crop is in prospect for the southeast and elsewhere yields should average normal or above. Pastures generally are in good condition though grass in some localities is short and slow to develop. Tobacco plants in seed beds developed slowly due to cool, wet weather and transplanting, though started, is somewhat delayed.

In many orchards set of fruit is ample and conditions near normal despite the difficulty in controlling insects and disease. Some apple growers anticipated a heavy June drop. In the Southeast thinning of peaches progressed and sweet cherries were coloring. In the Erie belt grape vines made rapid growth and show promise of a good crop.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES F. HINCKLEY, JR.

Against a candle-lit background of white and yellow daisies and greens, in First Methodist church at Indiana, Pa., Bety Lou Rishberger, art teacher in Beaty Junior High School, became the bride of Charles Fayette Hinckley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Hinckley, Sr., 66 West Corydon street, Bradford.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, June 14, by the Rev. Raymond W. Faus. Donald E. Swartz, of Aliquippa, played traditional nuptial music and accompanied his wife, Mary Gruber Swartz, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rishberger, 966 Philadelphia street, Indiana, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballerina length gown of white dotted nylon and a shoulder length veil attached to a Dutch cap. White shasta daisies and streamers fashioned her bouquet.

Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. Frederick Bender of New York City, was similarly gowned in yellow dotted nylon and carried yellow shasta daisies, the same flowers repeated on her duchess-style hat. Ann Rishberger of State College, tiny niece of the bride and flower girl, wore white organdy, with a daisy-trimmed matching hat, and carried white daisies.

Col. Arthur Storm, of Warren and Bradford, attended his brother-in-law as best man and ushers were E. Hinckley, Bradford, and Jack Rishberger, State College.

Both mothers chose navy and white ensembles, with gardenia corsages.

The reception followed at 4:00 p. m. in Langham parlor of the church, with guests from Bradford, Warren, Aliquippa, Grove City, Kane, Franklin, State College, Oil City, New York City, Buffalo, Salamanca, Pittsburgh, and Enid, Okla.

Following a wedding trip to southern points, the couple will reside at 208 Market street, Warren.

Sugar Grove Minister Is Entering Seminary

Sugar Grove—The Rev. Victor Redfoot, who will enter Westminster Seminary in September to complete his ministerial studies, preached his farewell sermon in the local Methodist church on Sunday, using "Unfinished Business" for his theme. Mrs. Neil Scott was accompanist for the choir anthem, "God Is a Spirit".

The Redfoots have made many friends in the community in their year's ministry and best wishes for success go with them when they leave here. They will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Scott during the coming centenary celebration.

The pastor, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barlow are in Meadville this week for the annual meeting of the Erie Conference.

Erie Presbytery Meets In Sugar Grove Church

Sugar Grove—The June meeting of Erie Presbytery was held in the local church, with 75 ministers and elders in attendance. The Rev. Paul H. McKee, of Bradford, is moderator and presided at the sessions.

The Rev. A. L. Mould, of Erie Church of the Covenant and newly-elected moderator of the Synod of Pennsylvania, was among distinguished visitors.

The sacrament of communion was administered; two young men studying for the ministry were taken under the Presbytery's care; Hugh Crawford, son of Dr. Crawford of Meadville, was received into membership and will be ordained in his father's church next Sunday morning.

Women of the local parish served dinner at noon in the American Legion Home.

The October meeting of Presbytery will be held in Warren.

Legion Auxiliary at Ludlow Has Session

Ludlow — Holding its regular meeting in the Legion Hall, with a fine attendance, the James Uber Post American Legion Auxiliary elected the following to serve as officers in the coming year:

President, Linnea Swanson; first vice president, Mrs. Lawrence Larson; second vice president, Mrs. Walter Swanson, secretary, Mrs. Vernon Swanson; treasurer, Mrs. William Ralston. Others reelected to complete the slate were the historian, Mrs. Lawrence Olson; chaplain, Mrs. Jack Andrews; sergeant at arms, Mrs. John Begany.

The president, Mrs. Enoch Nelson, was in charge of the session, which also included reports by all standing chairmen. Members were reminded that prior to the Inter-County Council meeting on June 26, the hall will be thoroughly cleaned, members to come at their convenience morning, afternoon or evening. A chairman will be present at all times to explain work to be done.

Anyone in the community who has furniture to donate is asked to call Mrs. Nelson. Members were asked to bring red, white and blue flowers and to have them at the hall by 10:00 a. m. on the day of the meeting. Those not present at this meeting are asked to contact Mrs. Lester McArthur or Mrs. Nelson to learn what they are to bring and to arrange their duties for the day. All members were asked to help clean the hall after the council meeting, the president again reminding them to be at the hall at 1:00 p. m. the day of the meeting and to bring refreshments.

It was announced a family picnic will be held at the park August 12, the menu to be the same as last year, the executive committee to provide the meat. Members will be advised by cards concerning further details.

A gift was purchased and presented to the Legion for presentation on Labor Day.

Concluding, coffee was served by Mrs. William Hanson and Mrs. Lester McArthur from a very attractive table.

any Enjoy Opportunity of Visit to ugar Grove Scout Insect Museum-Zoo

ugar Grove—The Insect Museum and Zoo, set up in the home of Mrs. A. A. Grant, attracted many visitors and proved both interesting and instructive. During the program given on Sunday evening, badges in insect and glass study were presented to Dianne Stewart, Ruth Scott, Nancy Schoonover, and Mrs. Snyder of Jamestown, and Mr. Strand for Donna Strand. It was unable to be present. The cards were made by Suzanne Link, Marilyn Miller and Barbara Anderson. Donald Stewart, with Bert Rappe of Jamestown, received credit in the same studies for merittages. The Scouts presented their parents with certificates of appreciation. The program was opened with the salute to the flag, followed by "Hymn to the Flag," written by Mrs. Dorothy Stewart and read by her daughter, Dianne; then Ann Scott played "White Coral Bells" on the glass xylophone and Nancy Schoonover played "Taps" and "Seal" on the same instrument, which was made by the girls. Mrs. Grant gave a talk explaining the museum, and a group sang "White Coral Bells," with xylophone accompaniment. The displays included 50 specimens of trees, arranged by Cub Scouts under the direction of Mrs. William Stuart; bird exhibit placed by the Brownies under the supervision of Mrs. Carl Allen; colored glass, arranged by Mrs. Neil Scott and Mrs. Burt Schoonover; photographic nature studies, done by Ronald Webster, and including pictures of the trip to the Pittsburgh Museum. Martha Webster displayed glass etchings and explained that work; a nature book display was arranged by Mrs. Travers Stohberg, and Mrs. R. S. Cumming had an exhibit of bird music. Electric bird and insect games were made by Tage Grant and Gale Onik. Other exhibits were shells and butterflies, owned by Bert Rappe; insect buttons, Mrs. Grant; woods, tropics, pond-world scenes and a display of chemicals, hard ware, etc., set up by the Sugar Grove Farm Supply, carrying out the theme "Know Our Insects—Friends and Foes". Mrs. Grant was assisted in the project by Larry and Douglas Welch and Donald Stuart, Boy Scouts, as well as by members of the Girl Scouts.

lin Pupils Heard In easing Spring Recital

A very pleasing violin recital was presented in the concert hall of Warren Conservatory of Music pupils of Arthur R. Briggs, one of a spring series given in Corry. The program, with another in new town in the near future, included playing by Judy Brecht, Anne Putnam, Toulia, Eleanor and Joan, Conable, Gale Scoles, Charlotte and Karen Kinney, Warren; and John, Ludlow; Sam and en Canfield, Corry; and an instrumental ensemble from Youngsville composed of Delores Artico, Carol Brooks, Rebecca McKinney, and Anne Getts at the piano. The improvement in technique shown was shown over previous recitals of the students and many favorable comments were heard from the large audience. Accompanist of the evening, who also soloed beautifully, was Marilyn Canfield of Corry, now a student at Houghton College.

Missionary Groups At Ludlow Have Meetings

Ludlow—Mrs. Axel Nelson and Mrs. Ben Peterson entertained Martha Missionary Society at Moriah church, with a fine attendance. The session was in charge of Mrs. Ed Wenstran, who also conducted the devotion. The accompanist was Mrs. Wales W. Connelly. The program included a playlet which emphasized the 60th anniversary of the WMS and was given by Mrs. Enoch Nelson, Tillie Olson, Mrs. Evert Johnson, and Mrs. Julius Anderson of St. Petersburg, Fla. Other numbers were piano solos by Judy Johnson, Carol Ann Ralston and Alexandra Connelly. During the business session, members were reminded to bring to the next meeting articles which will be sent to Africa. These items may include washed, printed and patterned feed sacks and other cloth in two or three-yard lengths, with the selvage removed; sharpened pencils, colored pencils, tablets; any type of sewing supplies, such as thread, scissors, needles, crochet hooks, knitting needles, embroidery cotton, yarn, crochet thread, ribbon, lace or buttons. To conclude the meeting, coffee was served by the hostesses. Also at Moriah, the Miriam Missionary Society was entertained by Edith Larson and Tillie Olson for a supper. The program for the evening was in charge of Kathryn Swanson and her assistants and was on the theme "My Consecrated Life".

PICNIC FOR CHILDREN

The Pre-school Child Study Group will hold its annual picnic for members and their children at Crescent Park on Saturday, 11:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. Those attending are reminded to bring sandwiches and beverage for their family, the remainder of the refreshments to be provided by a committee consisting of Mrs. Paul Smith, chairman; Mrs. Gay Grimaldi, Mrs. Paul Christie and Mrs. John Schaeffer.

LUDLOW

Ludlow—The Daily Vacation Bible School will hold its final session Friday morning and the program will be given by the children at 7:30 p. m. in the Mission church, with a cordial invitation extended to all interested. Clarence Peterson, Mt. Jewell, was guest lay preacher at Moriah Lutheran church Sunday in the absence of Pastor Hans Pearson. Announcement was made of the Warren District Luther League meeting to be held here Saturday and Sunday, June 21-22. Supper will be served at 6:00 p. m. Saturday, with a business meeting at 7:00 and campfire at the park at 9:00. The regular service Sunday will be at 11:00 a. m. and a rally is scheduled for 3:30, with Rev. Fred Benson, Erie, as guest speaker. The Luther League had 30 members in attendance at its June meeting which was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Olson Monday evening. Gordon Mortenson conducted the business session, in which further plans were made for the district convention to be entertained over the weekend. The program included readings by Gustav Olson and Edith Larson; piano solos, Judy Johnson and Wayne Olson; vocal solo, Mary Jo Beckwith. Refreshments were served in the late evening.

Oak Wilt Disease Suspected in Area Around Gettysburg

Harrisburg (AP)—State experts pored over laboratory test tubes today to find out if Oak wilt disease has struck near Gettysburg's Civil War battlefield.

Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of plant industry, in the Agriculture Department, said a specimen of a suspicious oak tree found near the Eternal Light Peace Memorial is under examination.

Guyton and two tree experts from the Forests and Waters Department made an aerial survey of portions of Adams and Cumberland Counties yesterday to look for oaks hit by the dreaded fungus disease.

"This was a kind of 'feeler' survey," he told a newsman. "We're trying to train ourselves first before going ahead with a statewide survey."

Guyton said 40 district foresters will be called here next week for a final briefing on aerial observation on the appearance of oak wilt disease. The 1951 legislature appropriated $50,000 to the Agriculture Department for the survey and research.

The state official said four "suspicious" areas were seen from their low flying plane. A ground check, however, showed that in three of the areas the trees actually had been struck by lightning.

In the fourth area, a specimen was taken and brought to Harrisburg for study.

Guyton said that so far oak wilt has hit 15 areas in eight counties, including Erie, Allegheny, Greene, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Perry, Franklin and Adams.

The aerial survey, he said, is intended to ferret out trees denuded of leaves or those with browned or brown leaves. When such a tree is seen, a spot is marked on the map and a ground crew goes to the area to examine the tree for oak wilt fungus.

Guyton said oak wilt disease is a potential threat to 57 per cent of the commonwealth's woodlands.

Bull Hill Bear Is Seck With Four Cubs

Old Black Bear and his spouse, Lady Black Bear, unofficial custodians of the refuse dump atop Bull Hill, near Sheffield, are proud parents of four cubs.

This bear family is the best known in Warren county. Two cubs were born last year and the parents and cubs, never too frightened by visitors, have been watched by hundreds who have driven to the dump to watch them forage around. The male bear developed a limp after the 1950 hunting season and it is presumed he was shot by a hunter.

The family now numbers ten, there having been no fatalities during the last hunting season.

Poultrymen Want Veterinary School At State College

State College, Pa. (AP)—Keystone poultrymen today called for the establishment of a school of veterinary medicine at the Pennsylvania State College.

The action was urged in a resolution adopted unanimously by the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Poultry Federation.

Earlier, the convention was told that Pennsylvania farmers and poultrymen for the third straight year have placed the Keystone State second in the nation for total farm income received from poultry and eggs.

Miles Horst, state Agriculture secretary, reported that an all-time record of cash income of $220,175,000 was set in 1951 by Pennsylvania's poultry industry.

Old Style Gas Ring Is Cause of Blaze In Orr Place Home

What might have been a serious blaze was extinguished by firemen early today before extensive damage was done and caused Fire Chief Charles Albaugh to issue a warning to persons who have old style gas rings in water heaters, to clean them regularly.

At 2:19 a. m., all equipment turned out to the home of Kenneth Quicksall, 12 Orr Place, where a fire had developed in a partition alongside a hot water tank. Damage was estimated at $150 after firemen had doused the blaze with a hose line.

Chief Albaugh said the fire started under the tank when an accumulation of soot developed from an old style gas ring, became heated and fell to the floor, causing the floor and partition to burn. He said that all persons having such gas rings on tanks should clean them periodically to prevent the accumulation of soot, citing the fact that the fire department had answered several calls for fires started in just that way.

Yesterday afternoon, at 2:46 o'clock, boys playing around a pile of old lumber at the rear of 323 E. Fifth avenue, started it burning. Firemen used water lines on the fire, and there was no damage except to the lumber.

City police answered both calls and directed traffic around fire equipment.

LAKE ERIE DROWNING

Coast Guardsmen and Chautauque Sheriff's officers were to resume their search early this morning for the body of a 16-year-old Dunkirk youth who drowned last night while swimming in Lake Erie. Choppy waters called off the search shortly after midnight, several hours after the youth was reported drowned while on a swimming party. The victim, Donald Foweski, 16, of 828 Central avenue, Dunkirk, a high school junior, was swimming with three other boys when he was seized with cramps. His companions attempted to rescue him but he fought them off and disappeared from sight. The boy and 17 other young people were holding a party at a summer cottage about a half mile west of Dunkirk, just off Route 5. Foweski was said to be an expert swimmer. He was the son of Edward and Emily Foweski.

PROWLER CALLS

A prowler in the lower Water street area was caught when police arrived after a call about 11:00 p. m. yesterday. The man of the house into which the prowler was supposedly peering yelled at him to "get out of there," and then called officers. Officers were also called to Clark street about 12:45 a. m. today because of an alleged prowler. They found nothing out of order.

ILLEGAL DEER KILL

Titusville Herald: Jumping the gun on deer season by some five months, motorized hunters killed a deer along the Spring Creek Road in Warren County early Tuesday morning, according to Game Protector John Putnam. The deer was shot about 5:30 a. m. on the farm of Faye Eastman. The hunters—there were at least two and possibly three—dragged the deer about 150 yards to their car, lifted it in, and drove off. Mr. Putnam said he has no description of the hunters or their automobile. Mr. Eastman was working outside in the early morning when he heard the shot, but thought it was probably crow shooters out for sport. Moments after the shot he happened to look in the hunters' direction just in time to see them heave the animal into the car. Minimum fine for shooting deer out of season is $100.

Boy Choir Concert Described As Triumph in Every Detail

The Warren Boy Choir has come a long way since it was first founded and this, the fifth anniversary program, was a triumph from the standpoint of scenery, costuming, dramatics and music.

In the first group of sacred numbers, the very difficult "Hosanna, Blessed is He" by Marryott was sung with superb tone quality, shading and diction. The pitch was perfect and the soprano section carried the difficult florid passages with assurance. Mozart's "Alleluia" suffered from a bad case of "butterflies" when the accompanying trio faded into a duet at the beginning. However, they carried on nobly when it would have been easy to cut the number.

The diminutive Charles Bonavita was the interim soloist, singing Schubert's "Ave Maria". His is a lovely pure soprano voice which he uses with great ease and his diction is good.

The second group of secular numbers was well chosen for interesting tonal and rhythmic effects. William Cornwall made his initial appearance as a soloist in "The Great Camp Meeting." Outstanding musically was the Lynn arrangement of the folk tune "Lonesome Valley", with Charles Smith singing a sustained solo to the rhythmic staccato of the choir. The diction and precision of attack was exceptionally fine in this. The Syncopated Clock is always a favorite and the audience appreciated the vocal arrangement of this familiar instrumental number.

Another newcomer to the choir, first heard in solo in the vespers concert, is William Henry. His plaintive rendition of Mr. and Mrs. Mississippi brought great applause. He sings with such an air of natural abandon that it is a delight to hear him. The cockney performance of William Dally singing "Sure, It's the Same Old Shillalah" changed the pace and proved him a true son of Old Erin. Continuing in the Irish mood, the popular quartet, William Henry, John Powley, Robert Saunders and Kurt Donaldson, rendered Clancy Lowrey's "The Boom and MacNamara's Band." They wrung everything out of these numbers which could be wrung, even to Kurt, the Swede in green, in an Irish band and William Henry's frantic antics as director, which nearly brought down the house.

One might call the next group the scherzo movement of the evening, using the term loosely. In Ugh! or what might have happened the day Columbus landed, written by Steven Olson, aided and abetted by Larry Mong and Roger Rue, the older boys romped through a slapstick version of an historical event, using many popular tunes and take-offs on radio personalities to the great amusement of all.

Charles Bonavita returned to the spotlight next to display his versatility in his singing of "Marry." This brought many curtain calls. Paul McDannel's interest has shifted from the Pussycats of last year's fame to a little Dutch girl in Sheboygan. His natural sense of clowning, with his mobility of expression, made his numbers pure relaxation for the audience.

Being a choir member seems to get into one's system and even now environment cannot replace it. That is so with Roger Rue, a past president of the group, now attending Severn School. Roger dreamed up the next scene enacted by the boys with unchanged voice. This skit has real merit and the setting provided by Maritz Morgan and Max Saunders was much to enhance it. Bob Saunders does a cleverly executed Spanish tap dance for the assembled onlookers. Rodney Hampson then serenaded his Celito, Allen Crossett, unaware that he father, Daniel Otterbein, is also listening. Celito tosses him a flower plucked from a potted plant on her balcony and Papa throws him the pot, also. The a cappella singing of "Felipe" by these young voices as they gathered 'round their fallen friend was a musical gem of the evening.

Kurt Donaldson, a veteran of many past concerts, again came through with a solo, "Serenade of the Bells." Kurt always sings well. Rodney Hampson's singing of "The Spanish Village" was a solo with great promise. The setting was a Spanish village complete with a vegetable market, the inevitable "siesta taker" and a cute little old donkey. The dance executed by Felipe and Celito, her father and the fruit vendor was great fun. We will be looking forward to seeing more of Roger's efforts.

The closing group was appropriately a tribute to Sigmund Romberg, who died this past year and left such a wealth of melody to the world. The narration and dialogue for this was written for the choir by Helen Morrow, the settings for the four operettas chosen to represent his works were painted by Mrs. Morgan. The scenes were set in a large frame before the chorus, seated on bleachers off to the side, provided a colorful touch with their various "jacks" and string ties. In the dialogue preceding the music, young Romberg, played by Gilbert T. Hesch, said to his fellow students at Helmsburg, where he was sent by his parents to study engineering, "I dream of writing music which will outlast the world's bridges. There is nothing so important to me in all the world as music." Truly, many of the engineering feats of his former classmates have been erased by war but war cannot blow up the music in men's hearts.

The Desert Song was first presented by the full choir singing a rousing chorus, Charles Smith, the handsome masked Red Shadow who sang the Desert Song with John Powley as Margot. Their duet, "One Alone," was well done.

Next, The Student Prince with Dennis Lord as Prince, Roger Johnson, Professor. Roger used his new found baritone voice carefully and next year should have a well-developed register to display. The duet of Kathie, the bar maid, Robert Von Blois, and the Prince was well sung and proved these two can carry their vocal parts with authority even though they did not convince anyone that there was a great love blossoming there.

David Greenlund and Jack Donaldson as Barbara and Capt. Trumbull made a lovely "duo" type picture, eyes straight ahead and keeping the time of "Maryland, My Maryland" as they sang the nostalgic duet, The Same Silver Moon. With youthful vim the chorus too over on Your Land and My Land, a task not easy to accomplish while seated on bleachers.

"Softly As in a Morning Sunrise" from The New Moon, was nicely sung by Steven Olson, a first solo appearance. Vincent Toscano, as the charming Marianna, proved a real coquette and flattered "her" eyelashes at the boys during her singing of "One Kiss" in a lovely lyric soprano voice. The entire ensemble burst forth into a spirited arrangement of "Stouthearted Men" which brought the evening to a brilliant climax.

Throughout the entire concert it was evident the boys had developed a true professional approach, singing with a freedom and youthful exuberance which kept their pitch constant. The quality and quantity of the treble section is excellent and the changed voices are well controlled. The accompaniment of organ and piano was in perfect balance throughout the evening and added much to the pleasure of the music. Adelaide Swanson and Orrie Beebe give unstintingly of their time and talent to the choir. The running commentary of Jim Valone is always a feature of the concert and he will leave a big pair of shoes for someone to fill next year.

Their director can indeed be proud of this crowning achievement of the Boy Choir. On every side were expressions of praise for the accomplishments of the boys and what a wonderful experience they are having. One could not sit through that concert without a tremendous feeling of humility and deep gratitude that here in Warren boys are free to choose to spend their leisure in such a wholesome activity and that through their endeavors perhaps the lives of some of those less fortunate behind the Iron Curtain might be given new hope and courage. The community takes justifiable pride in this group of boys who are bringing such international recognition to our town.

Motorist Is Killed In Crash Near Onoville

A 36-year-old Frewsburg father of five children was killed about 9:30 p. m. yesterday when his car missed a curve and overturned in a culvert on the Bone Run Road near Onoville.

Cattaraugus County Sheriff's officers identified the man as Alonzo R. Walls, of Frewsburg. Deputies Bernard Young and Louis Schuitz said the mishap occurred about two miles from the Onoville-Quaker Bridge Road.

Coroner J. M. Hapwell of Salamanca, said Walls died of a broken neck. The body was taken to Myers Funeral Home at Randolph.

Walls was driving toward Frewsburg alone when his car missed the curve, struck a ditch and overturned 100 yards further in a culvert.

Kiwanis Klub Kapers

It was ladies' night at the annual barbecued chicken dinner and picnic on delightful Blomquist Island, North Warren, and the good wishes of club members took full advantage of the occasion, even to furnishing the entertainment. . . . And no one seemed to have had a better time than Dick Betts, son of President Cliff, who had charge of the games and contests. . . . No one deserves more credit for the success of the outing than Jim Blomquist, who not only donated the grounds, but spent most of the day helping the committee prepare for the guests. . . . The program committee for June was in charge, including Cliff Terry, Chuck Babcock, Dr. J. F. Crane, S. Knox Harper and Dr. A. J. O'Connor. . . . Dr. J. T. Valone just couldn't resist putting on a chef's cap to help "dish out" the potatoes. . . . And of course Web Schickel prepared the barbecued chicken in its usual invincible style. . . . Some members of the committee sent out an "SOS" for help in serving the first few rounds of "java," and it wasn't because it was too strong to pour! . . . The only game of horseshoes tossed during the evening found Ed A. Johnson and the Times-Mirror editor pitted against Ed S. Lowery and the school board solicitor, the match going to the former team by a three-point margin. . . . Everybody was too busy to play shuffleboard, usually one of the most popular past-times. . . . Kiwanian Joe Galbo, of Kane, received the usual club "greeting" when introduced, but his wife was more cordially received; they were accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Chase Cleland. . . . Other visitors at the party were Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Potter, parents of Dave Potter, vice president of the club; they divide their time between Detroit, Mich., and Lake Worth, Fla. . . . Women contestants had a lot of fun to the great enjoyment of the men, in the games supervised by Dick Betts; Mrs. Gus Carlson won the bean-dropping contest, while Mrs. Bob Garrison and Mrs. George Redding were winners of the intricate stunt of carrying a bean on a knife. . . . Rell Hoskins, of the Times-Mirror, received a mild rebuke for appearing without "Abigail," inasmuch as it was "ladies' day!"

GARLAND

Garland—Joan Green is visiting relatives in West Virginia. Friends extend best wishes to Russell Smith, who recently celebrated another birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briggs, Jr., left recently for their annual vacation.

Dr. Prout was well enough to be back for services in the Presbyterian church Sunday, and was warmly welcomed by his congregation.

Through the efforts of Miss Eva Bristow, trustee, some much-needed repairs have been made on the windows in the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Russell Smith and daughter, Audrey, have charge of the activities for this month in the community center.

Rev. Smallenberger and daughter, Dauphine Bullock, and Miss Armena Pratt, of Westfield, were in the village Sunday, calling on friends and visiting the site of Rev. Smallenberger's pastorate here better than 50 years ago.

Rev. Smallenberger is now 85 years old, lives with his daughter and is still active in feligious work. Dauphine Bullock and the late Myrtle Norman were college classmates, and both were commencement speakers.

Ted Smith has left for the summer session at Allegheny College, where he has just finished his sophomore year, following a few days here with his parents.

Mrs. Tresler and family were happy Sunday to hear the voice of her youngest son, who is with the U. S. Army overseas. Danny had the opportunity to say hello to several of his brothers and sisters.

John and Mary Wojtowicz made merry with a wiener roast Sunday. Born this week to Mr. and Mrs. Homer Black in the Corry hospital, their first baby daughter.

The Price's son and wife, are staying in the Price homestead, being called here by the serious illness of both parents.

Mrs. Harold Hill has returned home following a week in the Grove City Hospital, where she was under observation.

The Woman's Auxiliary held an interesting monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Fish.

PRESQUE ISLE REPAIR BIDS DUE JUNE 25TH

Harrisburg—Contract bids will be publicly opened and read by the Department of Forests and Waters on June 25 for emergency first aid treatment of the narrow neck of storm battered Presque Isle Peninsula, Erie.

The proposed project calls for reconstruction of approximately 3,000 feet of rubble mound breakwater along the west shore of the peninsula, beginning at a point near the mainland.

Work will include resetting and facing about 2,000 feet of existing breakwater and reconstruction of another 1,000 feet of breakwater, including placement of blanket, core, toe, slope and deck stones.

Engineers estimate that it will take at least 1,600 tons of blanket and core rock topped by a 270,000 cubic foot layer of stone to protect this thin ribbon of land from the rampaging waters of Lake Erie.

The project is scheduled for completion January 1, 1953.

152 Camporee Gives Scouts Opportunity To Exploit Troops

Saturday and Sunday, June 21st and 22nd will be big days in the summer calendar for Scouts and Scouters of the Warren County Council for those are the dates for the 1952 Council Camporee, the big event they have been working toward all spring. Each Scout believes his is the best troop and now is his chance to prove it.

Baseball and other activities will be forgotten this weekend as the various troops and Explorer Posts compete against each other in scouting skills contests and races, and show off their ability in cooking and camp making.

This is a splendid chance for anyone who would like to become better acquainted with Scouting to see the various Scouting skills being put to practical use. Visitors are welcomed at any time during the Camporee and especially on Saturday evening when there will be a giant campfire complete with entertainment and a Court of Honor for Scouts who have advanced a rank this year.

The Scout Law which says, "A Scout is Reverent" will not be forgotten. On Sunday morning Catholic Scouts will be brought to Warren for mass and returned to the camp site. A Protestant non-sectarian service will be held at 9 a. m. and those Scouts having attendance cards may have them signed by the minister in charge.

HEAT WAVE IS BROKEN BY AIR FROM CANADA

The local heat wave was broken as nightfall brought relief from the sweltering mid-ninety temperatures of the past three days.

More hot weather is appearing in the mid-west, but the local respite was from a cold air mass moving in from Canada, the weather bureau said.

Yesterday's high, while not as muggy as Monday, nevertheless hit over 90 degrees. During the night, the mercury dropped to a low 54 early this morning. One can breathe comfortably today.

Settlement Near In Strike of Bakers

Pittsburgh (AP)—Judge Samuel A. Weiss, volunteer mediator, says money issues in the strike of 1,500 bakers have been resolved and settlement of the strike which started May 3 is near.

Weiss said only a disagreement over working conditions is holding up a new contract. The strike of AFL Bakery and Confectionery Workers has closed 18 district bakeries.

Personality of 'Aunt Ida' Eisenhower Is Still Dominant in Old Abilene Home

By BELMAN MORIN For Hal Boyle

New York (AP)—Dwight Eisenhower's mother was not there when he came home to Abilene the other day. She has gone now.

The spirit of her, though, the very essence of this woman, is so strong that it breathes from every corner of their home. Indeed, the old house is a perfect self-portrait, something she made and colored forever with the rich, deep shades of personality.

Her niece, Mrs. Ray Etherington, still lives up the road a way. She calls her "Aunt Ida."

"She must have been very strong," I said, "as a person." "She was," Mrs. Etherington said. "Of them all, Aunt Ida was the most vivid, the dominant one. Of course, you wouldn't think it to look at her."

In the photographs of her as a young woman, her chin is small and pointed. There is a firmness about her mouth, and yet the faintest shadow of a smile, too. Her hair is thick and it looks dark in the picture. In her eyes, there is that same intimation of a smile, something felt rather than seen. Her eyebrows are high and dark, and they give her an arch, knowing expression.

This expression must have been very marked on her face when she pretended not to notice that the boys had taken her bread dough from the old Pennsylvania Dutch dough tray in the kitchen, rolled it into balls and were playing catch behind her back.

And all her life she pretended not to recognize the nickname, "Ike," although every one of the boys—and not Dwight, alone—was known as "Ike" at one time or another. "Ike?" she would say, sweetly. "Who is Ike?"

She was an intensely religious woman. The family Bible, with the names of her sons and their birth dates, lies open in the living room. In the book shelves are faded editions of "Bible Studies," "Our Beacon Light," "The Life of Christ," and "Religious Denominations." Framed mottoes from the Bible hang above the two brass bedsteads in the room she kept for herself and her husband.

All this is just as it was when she went away for the last time. Except for one thing, and this is a thing she would not have permitted, if she had been there because she never allowed things to lay around. Her wedding dress, of white silk and lace, lies diagonally across her bed for visitors to see.

Yet, she maintained a home for five boys and a man, by herself. Their home was a treasure house of good living, of warmth and comfort and books and music—she tried to teach each of the five boys the piano—and especially of a woman's loving care. It is all there today. And so is she.

FEED YOUR DOG AS EXPERTS HAVE BEEN DOING FOR 20 YEARS!

9 out of 10 Kennel Owners Feed a Dry-Type Food Like Friskies!

It's true! No longer is it a secret why so many professional dog breeders feed Friskies!

THESE EXPERTS feed Friskies because it is one food that is scientifically balanced to provide every single food element dogs are known to need for complete nourishment!

Meat alone not enough!

YOUR DOG can be undernourished when fed even the most expensive meat. Friskies is rich in meat protein and is far more nourishing than meat alone... and since Friskies contains 19 individual ingredients your dog gets variety at every meal!

Millions of dogs love its "meaty" smell and flavor!

NOT ONLY will your dog go for Friskies, but you will save money! No costly "extras" are needed! When you feed Friskies, that's all your dog needs! So, you save on expensive "extra" meat, "extra" liver, "extra" milk, and "extra" eggs.

CHANGE TO FRISKIES PROFESSIONAL FEEDING method to keep your dog well-fed and frisky... and save money as well. Change to Friskies today... and look for the sure signs of a healthy, happy dog.

FRISKIES CUBES - Same famous formula in crunchy, bite-size morsels that exercise your dog's teeth and gums. Nothing to add... not even water! Like Friskies Meal, Friskies Cubes is a complete food. Serve both for variety!

GUARANTEE
Your dog is guaranteed to like Friskies or your money back

Offer good only while special "get-acquainted" packages last!

HOME ECONOMICS

USE STRAWBERRIES FOR COLOR AND GOOD EATING
Strawberries add color and taste appeal to summer meals. Serve them often while they are plentiful and good buys, suggests Mrs. Geraldine Johnston, home economics extension representative, Warren county.

Whether you pick berries from your own patch or buy them at the market, select those that are bright and red and ripe, firm and with a fresh plump appearance. High quality berries are clean, dry, and free of sand and stems. Pick or buy only what berries you can use in a short time, advises Mrs. Johnston. Store berries unwashed and unhusked in the refrigerator and cover loosely with waxed paper.

Handle berries carefully. An easy way to clean them is to put the berries in a large strainer or colander and wash well with cold water. Allow berries to drain before hulling.

Fresh ripe strawberries are an excellent source of vitamin C. However, they lose some of this food value when exposed to the air so it's very important to wash and slice berries just before serving.

You might start the day with strawberries on the breakfast cereal, include them in a fruit salad for lunch, and for dinner dessert serve strawberry shortcake or pie or ice cream sundaes. For a between-meal snack, here's a recipe for strawberry milk shake:

Wash, hull and drain one pint strawberries. Crush berries and press through a coarse sieve. Combine puree with 2 1/2 cups milk; then stir in 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice. Chill before serving. Garnish with whipped cream. Makes four servings.

Raw eggs are easier to digest than cooked eggs.

Nick Baker's One-hit Shut-out Beats Elks, Keeps Merchants in Sunset League First Place

Nick Baker pitched a one-hit shut-out for the Warren Merchants 1 to 0 victory over the Elks at the State Hospital diamond last night, keeping the winners on top of the Sunset Baseball League first place. At the same time on the other field the Youngsville Merchants were continuing their winning streak by trouncing the Warren Business School 11 to 5.

Nick Baker, who was in the winning role for the Merchants in the first game after Bill Massa led off with a double, and it was a pitcher's duel from there on with Kenney giving only two more runs in the remaining frames for the Elks. Chuck Irwin, lead-off for the Elks, spoiled the no-runer with a single.

Slight errors on the part of the Business School led to the downfall of Paul Smith, who went the distance for the losers. Jim Sigth started on the mound for Youngsville but tired in the fifth, giving up three straight angles, Elmer Haight took over to put the fire.

The "choobies" ignited things in the first inning by putting three across with the help of Nick Baker's three-bagger, but Youngsville took over with seven tallies in the second frame and clinched the game with four in the sixth.

One make-up game remains to be played this half, that between Elks and Youngsville, still allowing the out-of-towners to tie the first and cause a play-off.

Guiffre's Continue Winning Streak By Defeating Sylvania

A home run in the fourth, put Guiffre's Grocery one run in the lead in an Industrial league softball game played at the west side last evening, and the team later added two more runs to emerge on top, 8 to 5. Brown also contributed a circuit clout for Guiffre's, and B. Valone smacked one for Sylvania.

Dahler and Harrison, pitchers, were each touched for nine hits; and gave up four and three walks respectively.

Rocky Castellani Beats Chest, Looks For Bigger Money

Chicago (AP)—After picking up a check for $3,591.65, for defeating Johnny Bratton for the second time in three months, rugged Rocky Castellani today shouted loudly for bigger game and bigger money.

Castellani, a free-swinging middleweight who left the Luzerne, Pa., coal fields to seek championship pugilistic fortunes, now is yelling for a fight with Rocky Graziano.

"That one will draw the money," said business-like Castellani last night after taking a 10-round split decision from the Fanny Dan welterweight of Chicago.

Castellani outweighed Bratton 186 pounds to 149.

Castellani required two stitches to close a gash in his left eyebrow and used several buckets of shaved ice to take the swelling out of a badly bruised right hand.

The fight, with no knockdowns, was about even up to the 10th when Castellani battered Bratton with both fists.

Aside from being televised nationally, the bout was a private party at ringside with only 147 customers paying a net gate of $7,900.25, second smallest of the JBC's promotions in Chicago.

Oakland Hills Pro Leads Competition For Places in Open

Louisville (AP)—They've played the PGA Championship on all kinds of courses since its inception in 1916 and they don't toughen them up as they do for the Open.

The result is the kind of scoring that took place over Louisville's Big Spring course yesterday when they turned loose 137 of golf's best professional shotmakers to try for the 63 places in the match play brackets.

One of the "unknowns," tall lean Bob Gajda, went out early in the day and posted a 6-under-par of 66. The rest threatened that score and the course record all day but couldn't beat either.

There were three 67s, five 68s and three 69s and going into today's second 18-hole qualifying round it looked as if the ones who couldn't match par for 36 holes wouldn't get into the first of tomorrow's "sudden death" matches.

Behind Gajda, a 35-year-old assistant pro at Detroit's Oakland Hills Club, came two tournament stars, Carry Middlecoff and Dutch Harrison, and stay-at-home Henry Williams Jr., Kutztown, Pa. who went to the PGA final two years ago. They had the 67s.

Falcons Move Back Into Home Stadium For Week-End Tilts

Jamestown—Jamestown's High powered Falcons, bolstered by the addition of one fine star and the return of another, move back into the friendly confines of Municipal Stadium to resume their PONY League campaign with a three-game home stand against Corning and Olean.

The Falcons, who have just closed out the longest road treks in Jamestown history (13 out of 16 playing dates) meet Corning Friday and Saturday nights at 8 and Olean in a 3 p. m. game Sunday.

Friday is "Orchid Night" when General Manager Ray Peebles will present Hawaiian orchids, flown in from the islands especially for the occasion, to the first 500 lady fans through the turnstiles.

Addition of Fran Oneto, sensational former Fresno State star to the roster, and the return of Dick Lisiecki, last year's peppery hard hitting shortstop, has turned the Birds into real pennant prospects for the first time this season. Oneto plays second, and his flashy work on defense and stellar hitting has been a factor on the road, the Falcons returning with a record of eight wins in 33 starts.

Marion's Weapon In Pushing Browns Is Old Marty Himself

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

If Marty Marion is handling his St. Louis Browns with kid gloves it seems to be the right system.

Since Marion took over as Rogers Hornsby's successor, the Browns have won five of eight, including their own last four in a row.

Only eight games off the pace in the muddled American League race, they still can raise hob with the leaders.

Marion's secret weapon appears to be shortstop Marty Marion. When Mr. Shortstop is on the job, the Brown's infield plays with first division gusto.

With Marion playing shortstop, not just appearing as a pinch runner or a part-time player, the Browns' record is 21-18. Without Marty it's 6-13.

The old master came through last night with a drooping single that barely dropped safely along the right field line. It followed Dick Kryhoski's leadoff double in the last of the ninth to give St. Louis a 4-3 win over Boston.

Up front in the league, the New York Yankees widened their lead to 2½ games over the Red Sox as Gene Woodling, Billy Martin and Yogi Berra blasted homers for a 10-6 victory over Detroit.

Washington shoved slumping Cleveland down a peg to fourth place, behind idle Chicago, with a 3-2 decision for Spec Shea, his first win since May 16.

The Dodgers nipped Chicago, 6-5, scoring the winning run in the 10th without a hit, and the Giants thumped Pittsburgh, 5-2, with Bobby Thomson rapping four hits, including two homers.

Solly Hemus and Stan Musial teamed up on the offense while Joe Presto set down the Phillies with five hits for a 7-1 St. Louis Card victory.

Cincinnati knocked off the Boston Braves 7-6 and 3-1 with Kenney Rappenberg overcoming 11-strikeout pitching by Warren Spahn in the second.

Philadelphia and Chicago were idle in the American League.

Williamsport Gives Punch to Eastern

By The Associated Press

That rumbling in the Eastern League basement is due to Jim Gibson Conf. and their Williamsport mates, who have won three straight and five of their last six games.

The Tigers dusted off the Hartford Chiefs last night, each time by 6-1. Cronin, the red-headed outfielder, stroked his fourth homer in four nights. March scattered nine Hartford hits in the opener and Foytack gave up only four in the nightcap.

In higher society, the Schenectady Blue Jays vaulted over the Reading Indians into second place by taking two low-scoring duels from the Tribe, 3-2 and 2-1. The Jays are three games behind the league-leading Albany Senators, who tripped Elmire, 9-6, in a 10-inning game.

At Scranton, Jake Crawford hit his 18th homer of the season as the Miners outlasted the Binghamton Triplets, 7-6.

Marion's Weapon In Pushing Browns Is Old Marty Himself

If Marty Marion is handling his St. Louis Browns with kid gloves it seems to be the right system.

Since Marion took over as Rogers Hornsby's successor, the Browns have won five of eight, including their own last four in a row.

Hagerstown Braves Vie With Wilmington

By The Associated Press
Keeping in mind an old baseball axiom that the only way to come out ahead in a two-team pennant dogfight is to beat the other contender, the Hagerstown Braves are out to establish a solid lead over the Wilmington Blue Rocks in the Class B. Interstate Baseball League.

The Braves, last year's pennant winners, got a start in that direction last night by turning back Wilmington, last year's playoff champions, 8-4, in the opener of a two game series in the Maryland city.

The victory gave Hagerstown a 1 1/2 game advantage atop the standings—their best lead in over a week.

Meanwhile, the Lancaster Red Roses moved into third place by scoring seven runs in the opening three innings for a 7-4 decision over Sunbury. Lancaster edged past York as the White Roses suffered their second successive oner over time defeat, 9-8, at the hands of Salisbury in 12 innings.

Walter Kila, president of a big steelworkers' local at Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. in Pittsburgh, says several requests for financial assistance have been received from steelworkers' families.

The powerful union does not provide strike benefits. However, most of its locals are reported in healthy financial condition and ready to aid any hardship cases.

The USW was offered a loan of 10 million dollars by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers. Murray has not commented publicly on the offer but some kind of answer is expected soon. In the 1949 steel strike, Lewis made a somewhat similar offer which Murray did not accept.

Harry F. Schmidt, retiring Jaycee president, presented the president's pin to Alex Fino, recently elected to that post, and in turn was given the past president pin. Past presidents of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were also introduced, including Charles R. Trantier, Francis J. Buchanan, and Kenneth Carlson.

Mr. Fino, in taking over leadership of the 102-member organization, said that the club is now an experienced and established civic part of Warren. He stated that the chapter would not rest on past achievements but would immediately start plans for new projects and programs to continue the Jaycee purpose of improving the community. The new president paid tribute to the radio and press, the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in Warren which have always cooperated with the Jaycees in accomplishing their civic work.

Last night's dinner-dance was in charge of Willis Tinkner and Tom Hamilton and the excellent decorations were in charge of the Auxiliary board of directors. A Circus theme prevailed throughout the club and added to the festivities which were climaxed by dancing until 1 a. m.

The Max Davis Trio, with Peggy Owen as featured vocalist, made a tremendous hit with the Jaycees.

A Tremendous hit with the Jaycees was the new Jaycee board of directors and officers in addition to Mr. Fino are: Milton C. Dahler, 1st vice-president; R. # Strange Passage

By William Lynch

Chapter Four

When the sting had gone out of the sun Melisande decided to explore the neighborhood. Paul she remembered, would be working between noon and five o'clock. She dwelt a moment upon this unexpected self-discipline in a personality otherwise utterly devoid of any suggestion of plan, but soon dismissed it as merely a fresh complication to an already complex character. No—hardly a new complication, she finally resolved. Rather, the first glimpse of normality he'd yet given her.

The man worked to set hours: it was the one thing about Paul that she might as well understand. Thus engrossed, she was well within the precincts of the playground before she was aware of having entered at all.

"Good afternoon," she looked up and quickly appraised the smiling figure before her.

"You're Mr. Taylor," she said at once. "I'm John Taylor," he said. "You're a stranger here, I expect."

"I arrived only yesterday. I am living at Number Thirteen."

"Paul Gardner's place?" "You know him, then?" "Of course. Paul often visits us here. In fact, he started an art class amongst the children."

"He's an extremely interesting person, we find. The kids are just a little uncertain of him."

Melisande glanced him. He wore a free and gracious manner with the same ease as he wore his shirt and tie. There was something about him slightly reminiscent of some old world soothsayer. This man, Melisande instinctively knew, would be as calm as an Autumn day, and as impassioned as a summer storm.

"They're starting to arrive now," Taylor said.

They came with a yelling, ear-splitting accompaniment of noise, that rose to a fierce crescendo the moment they espied the supervisor walking towards his office.

"Would you like to meet some of the kids?" the supervisor asked.

"Perhaps it'd be better if they just kind of discovered me—They'll infiltrate you, never fear. Excuse me, I'll have to issue some equipment."

Melisande watched them all arrive in groups of two or three and then she heaved herself aboard the apparently neglected vaulting horse and watched them at play.

"Would you mind this for me, please, Miss?"

Startled, Melisande swung sideways to behold the unbelievable ebony of the rounded, eager face that peered up from between her dangling feet.

"Why?" she exclaimed, "you're the boy in the picture!"

The lad stretched up and deposited the contents of his hot, sweaty fist in Melisande's hand. "Why, it's a tooth!"

The other grinned, and exhibited an impatience to be in the basketball line-up that was pre-paring on the court.

"Come out in school, it did," he called back. "Don't you lose it, Miss."

Melisande contemplated the diminutive tooth with incredulous amazement. Then she began to laugh softly. Presently the supervisor swung up beside her.

"The little boy gave me this tooth to mind," she explained, displaying the molar to his gaze.

"That's Snowball," the supervisor said. "He has a genius for doing the unexpected."

"Paul Gardner has done a portrait of him, I think."

"You're very fond of children, aren't you, Mr. Taylor?"

They watched for a moment a wild flurry of fists in the centre of the playing court, and then Taylor said slowly:

"I owe so much to them. The funny part of it is you can't let a kid down. You just can't let a kid down. You just can't let a kid down."

"I owe so much to them. The funny part of it is you can't let a kid down. You just can't let a kid down. You just can't let a kid down."

"I owe so much to them. The funny part of it is you can't let a kid down. You just can't let a kid down. You just can't let a kid down."

"To these kids, yes. A whole lot. It's queer, I suppose, but in the process of giving them back their faith, one seems to get one's own faith back. That's by way of being a minor miracle. I like it!"

For the following five minutes they sat in silence, watching the fast ball game see-saw along the length of the court. Once, Taylor joined them to settle a technical point, but a moment later he swung back beside Melisande.

"Have you known Paul very long?"

Melisande inwardly smiled. She'd half expected something like this.

"No. I met him for the first time yesterday. I have rented his vacant apartment."

"Excuse me a moment. I must tell them to take a breather. They'll just go on forever if you let them."

Melisande watched him halt the game. She wondered why he'd returned so abruptly to the subject of Paul Gardner. Subtly, she felt, had no place in his character, and so, upon his return, she hurriedly dismissed the suspicion.

"Perhaps I'd better be moving on," Melisande said, springing from the vaulting horse.

"We're always looking for volunteers," he said. "It all helps. Sewing, stitching, reading stories, community singing, visiting the parents, bandaging stubbed toes."

"I tell you, this is grand work," Melisande laughed. "Here," she said. "Take Snowball's tooth. He'll be looking for it."

The wide, brown eyes caught her own in a grip of concentrated honesty.

"What about it, then? You will help out?"

"I'll see. It's not as easy as that."

"Very well. Thanks a lot for dropping in."

As she left the playground Melisande experienced a new sensation of rapture, but the feeling began rapidly to deteriorate as she drew away from the play area and rounded the curve that led to Number Thirteen. And, once there, all thought of John Taylor vanished from her mind as she beheld the gaunt, unsmiling figure of Paul standing on the footpath.

Walcott Keeping Title Didn't Surprise Man Who Made Him
BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Daniel Florio wants a little richly deserved credit for having developed Arnold Raymond Cream, especially at Jersey Joe Walcott's age.
In 1946, you see, Felix Bocchicchio watched his tiger go through a tuesome task. He was chasing Lee Oma for 10 rounds. Manage Bocchicchio liked the way Oma, a buffoon, seemed to have the answer to each situation, got the idea it was coming from Dan Florio.
That started the Walcott rags-to-riches rise. The antiquated Mitt Merchant of Merchantville confessed to 32 then.
"But he could belt and take a good punch and that was all I need- ed," says Trainer Florio, a little, serious, graying Italian in the mid- 50s and out of Flushing, Long Island. Florio has been around since he broke in as a bantamweight in 1912.
Under Florio, Walcott dropped debatable decisions to Joey Maxim and Violent Ray, then beat them back. Maxim twice.
Then came the first and big one with Joe Louis—the stunner. For that important engagement, S. enali Florio taught Walcott his famous shuffle and walkaway.
"AFTER the Louis fight, I tossed it in the ashcan. It's for clowns like Oma only, as a rule, but for Louis it was the proper style, and you know how close it came to paying dividends."
Before Walcott's recent fourth fight with Ezzard Charles, Florio told everybody who would listen that the Old Pappy Guy would retain the heavyweight championship. He also predicted that the fight would go 15 rounds.
"I suspected Charles would be more cautious and therefore harder to nail," he explains.
"If someone knocked you dead with a left hook, you'd be looking for it next time, wouldn't you? So I had Joe concentrate on the right hand this time."
"Charles was more left hook-shy than I expected him to be. He was afraid of anything Walcott threw at him."
"Just throw punches at this guy," I kept telling Joe. "I don't even care if you miss. Just keep throwing them and you'll breeze in."
At 38, going on 43 years, old Jersey Joe Walcott finally found a bloke he could lick just by missing him.

Walcott Keeping Title Didn't Surprise Man Who Made Him
BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Daniel Florio wants a little richly deserved credit for having developed Arnold Raymond Cream, especially at Jersey Joe Walcott's age.
In 1946, you see, Felix Bocchicchio watched his tiger go through a tuesome task. He was chasing Lee Oma for 10 rounds. Manage Bocchicchio liked the way Oma, a buffoon, seemed to have the answer to each situation, got the idea it was coming from Dan Florio.
That started the Walcott rags-to-riches rise. The antiquated Mitt Merchant of Merchantville confessed to 32 then.
"But he could belt and take a good punch and that was all I need- ed," says Trainer Florio, a little, serious, graying Italian in the mid- 50s and out of Flushing, Long Island. Florio has been around since he broke in as a bantamweight in 1912.
Under Florio, Walcott dropped debatable decisions to Joey Maxim and Violent Ray, then beat them back. Maxim twice.
Then came the first and big one with Joe Louis—the stunner. For that important engagement, S. enali Florio taught Walcott his famous shuffle and walkaway.
"AFTER the Louis fight, I tossed it in the ashcan. It's for clowns like Oma only, as a rule, but for Louis it was the proper style, and you know how close it came to paying dividends."
Before Walcott's recent fourth fight with Ezzard Charles, Florio told everybody who would listen that the Old Pappy Guy would retain the heavyweight championship. He also predicted that the fight would go 15 rounds.
"I suspected Charles would be more cautious and therefore harder to nail," he explains.
"If someone knocked you dead with a left hook, you'd be looking for it next time, wouldn't you? So I had Joe concentrate on the right hand this time."
"Charles was more left hook-shy than I expected him to be. He was afraid of anything Walcott threw at him."
"Just throw punches at this guy," I kept telling Joe. "I don't even care if you miss. Just keep throwing them and you'll breeze in."
At 38, going on 43 years, old Jersey Joe Walcott finally found a bloke he could lick just by missing him.
